

RECREATIONAL GYMNASTICS COACH

A non-profit community organization, serving the expatriate community in Singapore, is seeking a RECREATIONAL GYMNASTICS COACH. This well-established gymnastics program trains boys and girls, ranging in age from 3 years to 18 years old, in both recreational and competitive gymnastics. The competitive teams represent the organization at local Singapore competitions as well as international competitions within Southeast Asia.

The RECREATIONAL GYMNASTICS COACH's main responsibility will be to develop and support a recreational program that focuses on flexibility, power, strength, and endurance so that gymnasts can maintain and improve their skill levels. The recreational program should reflect the general philosophy of fun, fitness, fundamentals, and friendship in a continuous activity setting. Specific tasks to include:

- Develop and implement lessons plans and training schedules for all recreational class levels.
- Manage the process for setting individual gymnast goals and reviewing them on a regular basis.
- Collaborate effectively with coaching staff, administrative staff, and parent-governed board on events and program goals/initiatives.

A competitive salary, benefits and relocation package is offered. Interested candidates are asked to submit a CV to communications@sacac.com.
